THE WAR.

TO-DAY'S TELEGRAMS.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)

TURKEY AND PEACE.

GERMANY'S ANSWER.

WILL OCCUPY BULGARIA MILITARILY.

London, Oct. 3.

The Zurich Correspondent of the Daily News states that Turkey has informed Germany of her determination to propose peace to the Allies. Germany, in reply, assured Turkey of her intention to occupy Bulgaria militarily.

A GREAT VICTORY.

ENEMY'S DESPERATE DOGGEDNESS.

London, Oct. 2.

Reuter's Correspondent at British Headquarters, telegraphing to-day, states:—

The long and bitter battle is still raging. But has turned so definitely in our favour that it would not be premature to call it a great victory, the enemy's desperate, doggedness and endurance alone warding off immeasurable disaster. By the afternoon of October 1st the Australians had breached the Hindenburg system, thus giving the French flank covering for the capture of St. Quentin.

The way the whole German resistance has stiffened during the past days is remarkable, seeming to indicate the enemy's sudden consciousness that he is fighting with his back to the wall. This is confirmed by the sullenness and scarcely subdued savageness of recent prisoners.

ENEMY'S RETIREMENT PROBABLE

HIS LINE OF RETREAT THREATENED.

London, Oct. 2.

Reuter's Agency learns that the news early this afternoon from the Western Front shows that the advance between St. Quentin and Cambrai, where the enemy's lines have been broken, is threatening his line of retreat from the Oise and St. Gobain. In view of the loss of St. Quentin and the lines northward, the retirement of the enemy on a fairly large scale is probable. This is all that it is prudent to predict at present.

GERMAN REPORT.

ARMENTIERES AND LENS EVACUATED.

London, Oct. 3.

A wireless German official report states:—
We evacuated Armentieres and Lens, without fighting, on the night of the 1st and occupied positions eastward.
Strong attacks against our new lines north and south of St. Quentin failed.
French local penetrations in Champagne south of Orfeuil were reduced by our counter-thrusts.

GERMANS EVACUATE CIVILIANS AT LILLE.

London, Oct. 3.

Frontier correspondents announced that the Germans are evacuating the civilians at Lille.

ST. QUENTIN-CAMBRAI SECTOR.

ENEMY'S DEFICIENT WAR MATERIALS.

LIQUID AIR AS SUBSTITUTE FOR HIGH EXPLOSIVES.

London, Oct. 2.

Reuter's Correspondent at British Headquarters, telegraphing this evening, says:—

Although fighting blazed up this morning with great intensity, later infantry fighting decreased along the Cambrai-St. Quentin front.

We are busy mopping up and consolidating our gains.
The Canadian attack, yesterday anticipated a very heavy enemy assault, engaging two fresh "storm" divisions. Hence the furious fighting in which the Canadians gradually gained the mastery. The enemy is unquestionably beginning to feel the heavy loss sustained in war materials, and has for some time past employed liquid air as a substitute for high explosives.

In forcing the Beaurvoir-Wiaz court line yesterday, the English 52nd Division bore a conspicuous share, finally breaking through the last outpost on the Siegfried line, which enabled the attack to swing northwards athwart the Germans, massed below Cambrai.

The statement that the Germans have set fire to Cambrai appears to be unconfirmed. It is now believed that the fire was caused by the burning of dumps.

In the attack along the Canal bank north-west and south-east of Vendhuile our troops relieved a party of Americans, who were surrounded the day before, but had put up a magnificent resistance, though outnumbered. The ground was strewn with dead Germans.

We have satisfactorily progressed eastwards on various parts of the new battlefield.

Our airman dropped over 30 tons of bombs on likely spots. This morning the enemy opposition is increasing as reinforcements appear in the line.

The whole of the Hindenburg system below Bellecourt tunnel is now reported to be in our hands. Strong patrols are working through the tunnel and many lateral galleries.

This morning the Australians are exploiting yesterday's gains and are going on; likewise are the English and the Canadian Divisions between Le Catelet and the Seneffe.

FIGHTING MORE INTENSE AND STUPENDOUS.

At the climax of the war approaches the fighting grows more intense and more stupendous. Never was there such a searching test of human endurance. The present killing pace cannot long be maintained.

Great progress was made between the Vesle and the Aisne. The enemy retired to the Aisne and Marne Canal.

North of Rheims the enemy were forced back upon the river line on the whole of this front, excepting in a small sector, four miles wide and one mile deep, at the extreme northern corner of the Canal, where the enemy is fighting, and on the south bank of the Aisne near Jernicourt Wood, roughly on the Rheims-Laon road.

ST. QUENTIN FULLY IN ALLIED HANDS.

London, Oct. 2.

Reuter's Correspondent at French Headquarters, telegraphing to-day, says:—
The French have completed the capture of St. Quentin and the town is now fully in our hands.

PICTURES OF ZEEBRUGGE.

GERMAN PHOTOGRAPHS IN OUR HANDS.

How, when, and where did two photographs, taken by the Germans of the blocked entrance to Zeebrugge, fall into British hands?

These photographs were mentioned—but the manner of their discovery not revealed—by Sir Eric Geddes, First Lord of the Admiralty, when he opened the exhibition of naval photographs in colour, arranged by the Ministry of Information, at Prince's Galleries. The photographs, said Sir Eric, were given to him that morning, and he intended to present them to Lord Beaverbrook, and that they could be included in the exhibition.

"They were taken by a German—I won't tell you how we acquired them, but we have got them," he said, "and they show what we know, that at the time these photographs were taken, and that is probably not more than a month ago, the entrance was completely blocked. When we see now that destroyers come out of Zeebrugge that does not refer to the canal. They refer to something lying behind the mole, where the Finns were waiting alongside. There is no doubt that the blocking of Zeebrugge was completely successful, and it was a great achievement."

"I think it will probably interest you to know that the great name of the Finns is going to be perpetuated, and we are calling another of his Majesty's ships the 'Finland'."

HIS ONLY REMARK.
Lord Beaverbrook undertook that the two German photographs should be enlarged and exhibited, and remarked that his only regret was that the German who took them was not present with the pictures.

In his opening speech Sir Eric Geddes paid a tribute to those responsible for the exhibition.

"We must, I think, feel astonished," he said, "at the extraordinary development of photography which has taken place during the war, and has enabled you, Lord Beaverbrook, and those who have helped you, to give this most wonderful display of new pictures. I would like particularly to congratulate—and I feel I speak not only for myself and my colleagues in the Admiralty, but for every one present—I would like to congratulate your executive assistants, Captain Grant and Lieutenant Brooks, whom I am told, we have to thank for having taken most of the pictures, and also Captain Castle, who was charged by you with the organisation of this display."

Sir Eric suggested that the photographs in the exhibition would take the place of the stories which the Admiralty could not tell, or could only tell badly, for information should be given to the enemy; but he himself told some stories which showed the work of the Navy as vividly as any photograph.

THE ENEMY'S VIEW.
One was the story of a recent action near Iceland. "There were six trawlers up there, trawling for fish," said Sir Eric. "They were under the command of an R.N.V.R. Lieutenant. They saw a submarine coming towards them, with two large guns—probably six-inch guns. Immediately the trawlers were formed up in line of battle and they attacked. The submarine first dove then 100 shots at them, but they worked round her, and the battle continued not for a few minutes, but for over an hour. After a while one of the guns was knocked out and the submarine turned. They hit her again and she dived. Whether she sank I do not know, but that was a victory for the fishermen."

"A great deal which we cannot tell in print is told in the pictures here," said Sir Eric, "but there are other phases of naval activity which can hardly be portrayed even in pictures. Hardly a day or a night goes by but officers and men of the Navy visit Heligoland Bight, either over the water, under the water, or on the water."

Depth charges are changing the submarine from the hunter to the hunted, observed the First Lord when he told the story of a submarine hunt "not far from a good many sea-side places where some of us have been, and some of our children will be going this summer. She was hunted for seventy-two hours, and she had thirty-five depth charges dropped on her. If the end she came up alongside a drifter. The crew came on deck and surrendered."

"The captain of the drifter took them on board one at a time, searched each one and put them down in the fish hold. Then he signalled that he wanted a strong marine guard, as he was bringing in a lot of prisoners."

A ROMANCE OF BANKING.

TRIBUTE TO MR. DENISON MILLER.

The Royal Colonial Institute gave a luncheon recently, at the Cannon-street Hotel, to Mr. Denison Miller, Governor of the Commonwealth Bank of Australia, who was visiting England. Sir Charles Lucas, chairman of the council of the Institute, presided.

Mr. Denison Miller, responding to the toast of his hosts, which had been proposed by the chairman, said that it was particularly gratifying to him that the Commonwealth Bank of Australia had taken its place readily and acceptably among the great banks in London, and that it was recognized that although the bank was owned wholly by the Government of Australia, it had no desire to take undue advantage of its unique backing.

The Act gave very full powers to the Governor, who had the sole management of the bank. There was no board of directors, and the bank was entirely free from political interference.

"To enable the bank to be started, he had to borrow £10,000 from the Treas-

THE COLONIAL BUDGET.

THE Budget submitted to the Legislative Council yesterday is a noteworthy Budget for many reasons, but the only feature we should like to dwell upon to-day is the astonishing growth in revenue which is being revealed, year after year, in spite of the adverse influences of the great War. Those who can recall the Budget discussions in the years preceding the war will remember the many grave warnings which were uttered in the Council about the danger of the Colony having to face heavy loss of revenue in the years immediately ahead. Additional taxation was something to be dreaded, for the reason that living had already become very expensive, and that unless that tendency was checked the Colony would lose its status as a distributing centre. If the cost of living increased the rates of wages would have to be raised, and thus trade would be taxed to a degree likely to drive it to cheaper centres of distribution. The glooming of the opium divans by order of the Home Government, in order to bring the Colony into line with what was happening in China, created a wave of pessimism. About a third of the Colony's revenue at that time came from the Opium Farm, and the Home Government was so impressed with the representations made on the subject that it actually gave the Colony a grant for three years—amounting altogether to $340,000, which was regarded by the Unofficial members of the Council as a "miserable pittance." It was then expected that the revenue derived by the Colony from opium would have been entirely wiped out by this time, because the very reason for dispensing with the Opium Farm system, and the Government undertaking to run the opium business itself, was that it was to be a business which would rapidly decline to the point of extinction, and the Government felt it could better assist that policy by running the business itself, as the Straits Settlements Government does, than by farming it out. And what has been the result? We find that after the policy of restricted supply has been eight years in force the revenue from opium is greater than ever it was! A little table given in the Budget address delivered by H. E. THE OFFICER ADMINISTERING THE GOVERNMENT shows that, as compared with the approved estimate for this year, the increase in the revenue from the opium monopoly is now set down as two million dollars! This does not necessarily mean that more opium is now being sold in the Colony than ever before. We assume that the Department which was established in order to carry out the policy of the Imperial Government of restricting the trade in opium is steadily fulfilling that function, and that the increased revenue is due entirely to increased sale in the selling price of the drug to correspond with the charges made in the neighbouring districts of China, so that no inducement should be given in Hongkong to the smuggling of opium into China by reason of the drug being procurable here at a lower price. This is a serious growth in the Colony's revenue from opium is something that was entirely unexpected when the old Opium Farm was abolished. The warning voice regarding the uncertainty of this source of revenue is, for the present stifled, though when we are told that the record outlay of two and a half million dollars which it is proposed to spend in the coming year on Public Works Extraordinary is but "a small percentage of the expenditure required thoroughly to develop this great port to meet the probable needs of the next few years," it would be interesting to know what views the Government now entertain regarding the stability of the revenue from opium which constitutes such a large percentage of the total. It is remarkable evidence of the general prosperity of the Colony that its total revenue has doubled in the past five years. The programme of works outlined in the Budget shows that the Government is looking to the continuance of that prosperity. We must reserve for another occasion more detailed comment on the programme.

THE MAGISTRACY.

EXPORT OF TOBACCO.

A Chinese was charged with attempting to export a quantity of tobacco without a permit. Revenue Officer Bridger stated that defendant was arrested on the Ying Tai Hung Wharf with the tobacco in his possession. Mr. D. W. Trueman, Superintendent of Imports and Exports Department, had asked the witness to inform the Magistrate that these cases were becoming very common and that he viewed the present case in a very serious light. He asked the Magistrate for a heavy penalty.

Mr. Wood fined defendant $100.

THEFT FROM A EUROPEAN.

A Chinese engineer of the motor boat Andante, belonging to Mr. D. K. Moss, of Messrs. Alex. Ross & Co., pleaded guilty to stealing a clock and a barometer from the boat.

Inspector Sim stated that defendant had disappeared since September 15th and was not seen till Wednesday, when he was arrested outside the Taihook Dockyard. The watch and barometer were recovered from a pawn shop.

Mr. Moss, the complainant, stated that defendant had been in his employ for two years. Witness had been away on a holiday and consequently defendant had become slack and had contracted debts through gambling. Defendant was the No. 1 engineer of the motor-boat and had another boy working under him. Witness paid defendant a portion of his wages on September 15th and gave him a further $5 for repairs, which were not carried out. Defendant's assistant had complained to witness that defendant, who was responsible for paying his wages, had not given him a cent for two months.

Mr. Wolfe said it was a serious thing for a man when given a position of trust to abuse it and sentenced him to six weeks' hard labour.

The pawn-broker was warned by the Magistrate, who said he intended to return the pawned articles to the owner, without compensation.

OVER-CROWDING IN THEATRES.

The manager of the Po Hing theatre, Xaumi, was charged with allowing his theatre to be over-crowded.

It was stated that when the performance commenced every seat in the theatre was occupied, and instead of stopping the sale of tickets defendant continued issuing them, with the result that the whole gangway was blocked by people who were standing there.

Mr. Wolfe said over-crowding was a serious matter, and fined defendant $50 or two months' rigorous imprisonment.

BIG HAUL OF OPIUM.

ATTEMPT TO SMUGGLE 1,000 TAI.

An ingenious attempt to export 1,000 taels of opium to Manila on board the Loong Sang was foiled by the Police yesterday morning.

It appears that the Police received information that a well-dressed Chinese would board the steamer with opium and they consequently kept watch. The ship's officers and the Police searched the luggage of passengers whom they suspected, and when they came to the luggage of the well-dressed Chinese who had just entered the gangway they noticed a wooden box labelled "cane sugar." The box was opened and 16 tin boxes of "sugar" were found inside. These were also opened and in one of the boxes, instead of the cane sugar, they found 1,000 taels of opium. The man was arrested and taken to the Central Police Station.

The price of a tael of opium at present in the local market is $14.50 and outside Hongkong it is believed to be between $25 to $30. Had the man succeeded in exporting the opium he would have enriched himself to the extent of about $20,000.

The sequel came this morning in the Police Court when the Chinese was charged before Mr. E. D. C. Wolfe with attempting to export the drug without a license.

Sergeant Blackman prosecuted and M. K. Lo defended.

Sergeant Blackman gave a short account of the case, after which Mr. Lo applied for a remand and the fixing of bail.

Mr. Wolfe: It looks as if the bail would be a heavy one.

Mr. Lo: I am afraid so. Your Worship will, however, realise the idea of bail is to prevent the man from getting out of the Colony.

Mr. Wolfe: There is much a lot of money in these opium cases that it may be worth his while to get away.

Mr. Lo: I do not think any man will pay a large sum as bail.

Sergeant Blackman: I might say, your Worship, that defendant, at the Police Station, told me that his master gave him the cases to take on board. He gave the address, and when the Police raided the house they found that the master had fled out.

Mr. Lo: That seems to be a point in my favour. I hope the matter will be taken into consideration.

THE MAGISTRACY.

EXPORT OF TOBACCO.

Mr. Wolfe: You are pleading "not guilty" on his behalf. The cost of the opium is $14.50 a tael. The 1,000 taels will be over $14,000 and ten times that amount will be the maximum penalty, making it $140,000.

Mr. Lo: The maximum penalty does not necessarily mean that the maximum bail should be granted.

Mr. Wolfe: The real bail is fixed somewhere in the neighbourhood of ten times the value of the opium.

Mr. Wolfe said he could not fix bail below $50,000, and remanded the case till next Thursday at 11.30 a.m.

ALLEGED DARING FORGERY.

LUNG CHAI-KWONG'S RELATIONS ON TRIAL.

AN INTERESTING CHARGE.

A case which has created a sensation among the Chinese, was unfolded this morning at the Magistracy when four Chinese, Lung Ying King, Wong Kwong Wi, Hui Chun Po and Leung Kam King, relatives of General Lung Chai-kwong, the ex-Governor of Canton, were charged before Mr. J. R. Wood with forgery and uttering a deposit receipt on the International Banking Corporation in Queen's Road.

The Hon. Mr. McI. Messer, Captain Superintendent of Police, prosecuted Mr. M. K. Lo appeared for the defendants.

Captain Messer stated that the case was one of forgery and uttering a deposit receipt for $150,000,000 on the International Banking Corporation. The defendants deposited with the Bank in question on May 27th $150,000.

On that day the Bank made out a receipt for the second defendant and another man Chin Ho Ti for $150,000. On April 30th, when the book of deposit receipts was checked by the Bank, it was found that Form No. 36,000 was missing.

On May 29th the receipt which was made out for the second defendant and Chin Ho Ti for $150,000 was presented on the International Bank and the sum was duly paid out.

Yesterday the first two defendants went to the International Bank and the missing Form No. 36,000, filled up as a deposit receipt for $150,000, was presented for payment. It was obviously a case of forgery. At the time third and fourth defendants were outside the Bank.

Mr. Lo asked for a remand and, for a small bail. He said the first defendant came from Peking recently and had no money.

Capt. Messer said the object of the bail was to prevent the men from failing to make an appearance. Since defendants were influential people he thought there would be no difficulty in the matter.

Mr. Wood remanded the case till next Thursday and released the first and second defendants on bail of $25,000 each and the third and fourth defendants on $1,000 each.

One of the defendants is a nephew while another is the secretary of General Lung Chai-kwong.

[We understand that the report that the defendants were armed with revolvers when they went to the International Bank yesterday is incorrect. A search at the Central Police Station revealed no firearms on their persons.]

TELEGRAMS.

THE GREAT BATTLE.

BATTLE NORTH AND SOUTH OF ST. QUENTIN.

TOWN DAMAGED BY ENEMY.

London, Oct. 3. Reuter's Correspondent at French Headquarters, telegraphing yesterday, says:

Whole quarters of St. Quentin are burning. Our advanced units yesterday crossed the town to the eastern side. One company reached the railway station at the south-eastern corner. Fighting continued at night in various parts of the town.

The ancient Town Hall is not visibly damaged, but it has probably been hit. It cannot yet be said of the interesting buildings of the town that they are beyond the reach of danger.

The battle continues north and south of St. Quentin. To the north the French advanced towards Chassigny, three miles north-east of the town.

To the south we have pushed back the Germans to their original Hindenburg defences.

In the eastern outskirts of the town, the Germans are actively fighting, but no delaying actions. The town is ours.

AN ANTI-TANK BARRAGE.

General Lindbergh has issued an order for the immediate creation of a special anti-tank barrage composed of mines and concrete obstacles in front of positions exposed to attack. It has been decided by the Germans to use machine-guns for this purpose. Only such anti-tank zone is already in existence north of Rheims and others have been identified on various parts of the front.

AMERICAN FRONT.

FURTHER ENEMY WITHDRAWAL ANTICIPATED.

London, Oct. 3. Reuter's Correspondent at American Headquarters, telegraphing yesterday, states:

The weather has become dry and cold, making the roads again available for traffic and transport of supplies.

The enemy opposition continues but signs are not wanting that his fight is of a covering character and that he meditates withdrawal to a more distant line of defence.

WARNING AGAINST OVER-OPTIMISM.

GREATEST SACRIFICE REQUIRED FOR ALLIED VICTORY.

London, Oct. 2. While the immediate and prospective advantages of Bulgaria's surrender are fully recognized, the newspapers here are uttering warnings against over-optimism. It is pointed out that even if the downfall of Turkey speedily followed, the hardest part of the Allies' military task would still remain.

As regards the "Parliamentarisation" of Germany, it is emphasised that the main object is to strengthen the enemy's resistance by convincing the German troops that Germany will become a free country. Meanwhile, the enemy on the Western Front is fighting very bravely and very determinedly. Continuous effort and the greatest self-sacrifice are still required to attain an Allied victory.

LONDON STOCK EXCHANGE BUOYANT.

CONSOLS AND RUSSIAN STOCKS IN DEMAND.

London, Oct. 2. There was a feeling of greater buoyancy on the Stock Exchange this afternoon than for a long time in Consols and also Russian minerals and oils.

GERMANY'S LOST MAN-POWER.

250,000 IN FEW MONTHS.

Paris, Oct. 2. Germany has lost a quarter of a million men in the last few months. The people are growing with discontent that their allies are either deserting them or have become traitors. —Hansa.

FRENCH REVIEW OF THE SITUATION.

Paris, Oct. 2.

General Debeney's men, in liaison with the British Fourth Army, entered St. Quentin and pushed the enemy beyond the Canal.

On the eastern side of the town the enemy put up a stubborn defence. The French penetrated deeply into the Hindenburg system.

General Hortholt's Fifth Army compelled the enemy to abandon the high ground between the Aisne and the Vesle.

There was a pitched battle of extreme violence at Cambrai. The Germans fought desperately, throwing in all their available troops. Twelve divisions were accumulated north of Cambrai. —Hansa.

COALITION GOVERNMENT FOR GERMANY.

CONSERVATIVES SINK THEIR DIFFERENCES.

Amsterdam, Oct. 3.

A message from Berlin says at a meeting of the Conservatives in the Reichstag it was resolved to sacrifice convictions and to participate in a Coalition Government with a view to obtaining an honourable termination of the war.

THE NEW GOVERNMENT'S PROGRAMME.

Amsterdam, Oct. 3.

The Volkskrant states the new Government's programme will provide for the settlement of Eastern questions, giving the border peoples a right to self-determination.

DR. VON PAYER REFUSES THE CHANCELLORSHIP.

The Berlin Press announces that Dr. von Payer has definitely refused the Chancellorship candidature. Prince Max of Baden is now favoured. The Prince has declared his willingness to accept it, conditionally upon the support of the Reichstag Majority.

A DICTATORSHIP SUGGESTED FOR GERMANY.

Paris, Oct. 2.

There is point and bluster in Germany. There is no alternative, save a Dictatorship, says a Junker organ. The Socialists, Radicals and some of the Centre Party see salvation only in a popularly elected cabinet. All agree on one point, that Germany's military and political policy have failed. —Hansa.

GERMANS STILL HOPE IN BULGARIA.

Amsterdam, Oct. 3.

The German Press are still incredulous that Bulgaria has entirely deserted the Central Powers, professing to cling, as a last hope, to the results of the despatch of Austrian and German troops to Sofia.

AUSTRO-GERMAN TROOPS IN SOFIA.

Amsterdam, Oct. 2.

A message from Vienna states that Austro-German troops have arrived at Sofia.

HOW BULGARIA'S SURRENDER EFFECTED GERMANY.

THE WORST PANIC SINCE OUTBREAK OF WAR.

Paris, Oct. 2.

The news of Bulgaria's surrender has been like a thunderclap to Germany. It has caused the greatest dismay on the Berlin Bourse. There has been no worse panic since the outbreak of the war. A slump occurred in all war industry stocks. —Hansa.

THE CAPTURE OF DAMASCUS.

ITS IMPORTANCE EMPHASISED.

London, Oct. 2.

The newspapers give prominence to the British capture of Damascus, and emphasise that it is one of the most important Turkish losses in Asia Minor and the principal supply centre for the captured Turkish armies.

They also dwell on its great historical interest and express the opinion that the capture will create an enormous impression throughout Islam.

EX-BOLSHEVIST AGENT IN LONDON.

Stockholm, Oct. 3.

Mr. Livshitz, the ex-Bolshevik agent in London, and his party have arrived at Christiania.

EARLIER TELEGRAMS.

THE WESTERN FRONT.

FRENCH GAIN FRESH ADVANTAGES.

London, Oct. 2.

A French communiqué says:—In St. Quentin very lively actions occurred during the night. The enemy has been thrown over to the east bank of the Canal, where he resists energetically.

Between the Aisne and the Vesle we have gained fresh advantages west of Rheims.

We hold Pouillon and Thil on the southern outskirts of Villers-Francais. St. Thierry massif is in our hands.

We have also gained ground north of Neuville and carried our lines to the southern outskirts of Betheny.

In Champagne the situation remained unchanged during the night.

THE SITUATION REVIEWED.

London, Oct. 2.

The consensus of opinion of correspondents yesterday was that the German resistance has stiffened and the enemy is fighting most desperately in an attempt to hold vital positions. The struggle is most furious on the road to Cambrai, which the German High Command evidently considers essential to the whole line of defence. Twelve German Divisions have been flung in on this sector since Sept. 27, of which six are on a front of five miles. On the other hand, the British are fighting with incomparable spirit, advancing steadily, if slower than recently.

The fact that the Germans deliberately set fire to Cambrai shows that they are not hopeful of saving the town. Several papers are of opinion that in view of the wanton destruction of cities like Cambrai the Allies should announce their intention of reprisals.

It is pointed out that Marshal Foch's skill in threatening the enemy with a strategical rupture at three points, namely, Metz, Central France and Belgium, accounts for the enemy's apprehension of disaster and the consequent hardening of resistance.

The papers deprecate having too much optimism on the surrender of Bulgaria, declaring that the task of the Allies in the West is still stupendously difficult. Similarly, American newspapers are far from assuming that the war is over and urge redoubled effort, as the opportunity is ripe to completely defeat Germany on the battlefield.

GREAT INTEREST IN FLANDERS OPERATIONS.

London, Oct. 2.

There is great interest in the operations in Flanders. A French semi-official message states that General Degoutte's Army has been operating since Monday. Previously it acted on the left of General Mangin's army. Presumably it was sent north as soon as the Belgian-British breakthrough was definitely established.

THE ALLIED TACTICS.

Paris, Oct. 2.

A semi-official message, after confirming that all communications in Western Flanders with Lille are cut, speaks of an enveloping movement from the north against Tourcoing, Roubaix and Lille which is becoming accentuated, and incidentally mentions that the French army under General Degoutte is now operating in the vicinity of Roulers.

GERMANS ADMIT WITHDRAWALS.

London, Oct. 2.

A wireless German official message says:—We withdrew parts of the salient lines near St. Quentin, north-westward of Rheims and westward of the Argonne.

The enemy gained a footing in Ledeghem, but our counter-attack regained the eastern part.

On the fifth day of the Cambrai battle we repulsed seven assaults northward of Scaucourt, and further south the enemy advanced beyond Abancourt and Batigny, and towards the Cuvillers. A counter-attack drove him back beyond Abancourt and Batigny.

The enemy's assault broke down at and south of Cambrai.

The enemy captured Hamilly and occupied St. Quentin.

We withdrew from the Vesle, to north-westward of Rheims.

AUSTRO-HUNGARIAN PROPAGANDA.

London, Oct. 2.

The Press Bureau announces:—A Serbian semi-official message states that the news of the rising of the Serbians, Croats and Slovenes should be received with great reserve, as it is feared that the Austro-Hungarians are inducing the police to execute peaceful inhabitants in order to furnish a pretext to confiscate their property and imprison them in Austria-Hungary.

THE CLYDE SHIPPING STRIKE.

London, Oct. 1.

The Clyde shipwrights have resumed work today.

WIDESPREAD TERROR IN GERMANY.

The central portion of the Frankfurt main station is so damaged that trains are unable to enter but arrive and depart at improvised wooden platforms some distance from the station.

WHY GERMANY MUST HAVE COLONIES.

DR. SOLF'S VIEWS.

Amsterdam, Oct. 2.

Dr. Solf, lecturing at Munich before an audience including the King of Bavaria, said the national importance of regaining the colonies was unsurpassed by any other task. Present substitutes for raw materials could not suffice for peace. War would alone Germany would have to keep fifty million sheep which would be practically impossible. The supply of raw materials was the weakest point in Germany's world economy, hence the need of the colonies. Dr. Solf argued that Germany must have colonies to prevent her commercial isolation. He said the policy of the open door must be one of the most important demands at the conclusion of peace. Germany had no thought of militarising Africa but desired to prevent the employment of coloured men in Europe. The Imperial Government adhered firmly to the demand for the return of the African and South Sea possessions as well as a fresh partition of Africa so as to consolidate Germany's scattered possessions. Dr. Solf added that Belgium, Portugal and France possessed excessively large stretches of territory and remarked that Germany did not want the lion's share.

THE CAMPAIGN IN RUSSIA.

POSITIONS CLEARED OF ENEMY.

RECOGNITION OF THE CZECHO-SLAVS.

GREAT ENTHUSIASM IN BOHEMIA.

Washington, Sept. 25.

Official dispatches state that the recognition of the Czecho-Slavs as a nation has been received in Bohemia with unlimited enthusiasm. As a result the Czech political parties in the Austrian Government have refused, in spite of the strongest pressure, the demand that they should disavow the Czecho-Slovak National Council in Paris as an incompetent body possessing no allies in the countries inhabited by the Czecho-Slavs. It is said that the Czech Catholic clergy assembled at Prague on the 13th and expressed their sympathy with the declaration of Czech writers and deputies and repeated the national oath pledging unqualified support to the Czecho-Slavs' independence.

BRAVE FIGHTERS FOR ITALY.

An official dispatch from Rome states that some Magyar troops were defeated by the Czecho-Slovak unit on the Italian front recently. The valor displayed by the Czecho-Slavs has brought from Premier Orlando the following telegram of congratulations to the Czecho-Slovak National Council in Paris:—

"I cordially express my admiration at the intrepid firmness and valour of the Czecho-Slovak division on the Alps of Dosso Alto, where these brave people who are fighting for their liberty have conquered the aggressive fury of the enemy. May this be a good omen for our final battle and victory."

This action, the first in Italy where the Czecho-Slavs acted as a unit, occurred in the Trentino last Saturday. The enemy launched an attack which had been prepared with the greatest secrecy, to the east of Lake Garda. Captured dispatches indicate that there was no definite territorial objective but the stroke was planned in the hope of gaining support to the Austrian claim that the Czechs would give way voluntarily, when faced by the army of the country which has so long subjugated them. In Rome it is believed that if the Austrians had achieved a local success they would have killed all of their Czech prisoners and then affirmed that the Czechs did not want to fight.

The dispatches describing the battle said that the assault was made by a big detachment of Magyars and Germans under General Schissner, following a destructive artillery fire in which thousands of gas shells were used. The Czecho-Slavs went over the top and drove back the first column. The second column, after desperate fighting, succeeded in occupying the Czecho-Slovak position, but was driven out by a counter-attack. No prisoners were taken on either side. —American Wireless.

DIPHTHERIA—HOW IT MAY BE AVOIDED.

DIPHTHERIA is usually contracted when the child has a cold. The cold prepares the child's system for the reception and development of the diphtheria germs. When there are cases of diphtheria in the neighbourhood children who have colds should be kept at home and off the street until recovered. Give them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and they will not have to remain at home long. It is also clean, as the children get a high form in a child's throat when it has a cold and minimize the risk of contracting infectious diseases for all children.

THE SITUATION IN RUSSIA.

CREATION OF RUSSIAN CENTRAL AUTHORITY NOMINATIONS.

Peking, Sept. 25.

The Russian Legation has received a telegram dated Ufa, Sept. 24, from M. Wladimir, who is in charge of the Department of Foreign Affairs of the Samara Committee of the members of the All-Russian Constituent Assembly, which unites the legal organs of authority in European Russia in a similar manner as the Siberian Government Committee represents all the Parties which have remained faithful to the Allies and have determined to continue the war against the Bolsheviks and Germans in alliance with the Czecho-Slavs. The decisions of the conference at Ufa, with the voluntary dissolution of the Vladivostok Government and the arrangement with General Horvath have practically resulted in the creation of a central authority for the whole of Russia.

The conference has decided to vest the supreme authority in five persons, who will be responsible to the All-Russian Constituent Assembly, which will be convened on the 1st January, 1919, and has nominated the following:—

M. Aykentsoff, Minister of the Interior in the last Provisional Government.

M. Vologodsky, Premier of the Siberian Government.

M. Tchaikovsky, the head of the Government of North Russia.

Lieut. General Bokyreff, who has succeeded General Korniloff in command of the 8th Russian Army.

COLLAPSE OF VLADIVOSTOK SIBERIAN GOVERNMENT.

SENSATION CREATED IN VLADIVOSTOK.

Vladivostok, Sept. 24.

The sudden collapse of the Vladivostok Siberian Government, almost on the eve of its departure for Tomsk created a great sensation here.

The letter written by Lavroff, the Premier of the late Vladivostok Siberian Government, to Vologodsky, the Premier of the Omsk Siberian Government, announcing the resignation of the former was made public today.

It explains that, in order that the State shall suffer no harm from duality of premiers, he renounces his title and claim to be considered member of the Government.

His colleagues are understood to have written to Vologodsky in similar terms. Reuter's correspondent learns unofficially that an arrangement has just been concluded between Vologodsky and the Cudets and other non-Socialist Parties pursuant to which General Horvath becomes a member of the Omsk Government, remaining in the Far East as Russian High Commissioner.

PRINCE LYOFF AT HARBIN.

Harbin, Sept. 23.

Prince Lyoff, formerly Prime Minister of the First Russian Provisional Government, passed through Harbin today from Ufa on his way to Vladivostok. He was accompanied by M. Viruboff, formerly assistant Minister of the Interior in the same Government. The latter fled from Moscow, and joined Prince Lyoff at Ekaterinburg, where the Prince had been kept in prison for many months by the Bolsheviks. M. Viruboff states that they both assisted at a meeting held at Ufa for the purpose of deciding the question of the creation of a future Central Government for Russia. The meeting was apparently successful, for a final agreement of all parties was at last attained.
